County favors Alabama firm

Hancock County supervisors Tuesday decided to go ahead and award a $711,484 contract to an Alabama company for road paving and reconstruction of seawall along both ends of the Beach Road after hearing protests from the president of a local firm which also bid on the project

Dr Michael Smith, president of Amco Corporation, a Bay St. Louis firm, whose bid was $87,000 higher than Alabama Waterproofing Co., Birmingham, protested the county's action saying that the company was not heensed by the state Board of Public Contractors to bid on road contracts. Smith asked board attorney Sam Favre for a legal opinion from the state attorney general on the matter but was frustrated in his attempts to get the board to delay further action on the contract

The contract has been upheld approximately one month while the board sought an opinion from State Attorney General A F Summer on another matter relating to the bid.

The company had failed to include a bid bond at the time bids were opened

Precincts open

All regularly designated polling precincts for Hancock County will be open as for past elections this Saturday for the county school bond election, according to Circuit Clerk Henry Otis. Otis also advises that the precinct at Ray's Electric in beat two Bayou Phillips area, will definitely be open for voting. Ray's Electric is located on the north side of Highway 90 West near the Bayou Phillips bridge. In addition, Virginia Hall at Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis, situated in South Bay, beat four, will be open for those voters living just outside the Bay-Waveland school district.

All voters are notified to vote at whichever precinct they normally go to, county election officials advise. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. Free transportation to Gulfview School precinct is offered by parents in that area Anyone needing transportation may call the school office.

that the opinion of the attorney general was that as long as a performance bond was included that the board could waive at its discretion the requirement of a bid bond.

In response to Smith's contention that the company was not licensed in the state to perform road contracts, Favre noted that the company had provided a certificate of responsibility

"This is all that the law requires," Favre said.

After continued pressure from Smith to delay action until an opinion could be sought on the licensing issue, Favre expressed exasperation

"How many opinions do you want. I've already said that as long as you have that certificate of responsibility that you can bid on any job and subcontract work "

Supervisor Oscar Peterson moved that the board go ahead and accept the contract. Supervisor Jimmy Travirca, who had tried to aid Smith on the board, voted with the other supervisors to award the contract to Alabama Waterproofing after board president Dolph Kellar telephoned the Mississippi State Aid Director and reported that the office recommended acceptance of the Alabama firm's bid.

In a separate matter the board agreed to enter into contract with Jackson Landing Shipyard, Inc. for the immediate sale of 35 acres of lot four at Port Bienville Industrial Park for the purchase price of $2,500 per acre.

The company was also given a one year exclusive option to purchase an additional 47 acres for the same price contiguous to the above mentioned

Wilson Webre, Hancock Port and Harbor director, who prepared the resolution asking that the county approve the sale, said the commission highly recommended the sale, noting that the company did not require the use of natural gas which the Industrial Park has been unsuccessful in purchasing to date. Another resolution from Webre asking that the board issue bonds of Hancock County in the amount of $300,000 for the purpose of providing the balance of matching funds in connection with the construction and erection of runways at Stennis In-advisement.

Supervisor Jimmy Travirca objected to Webre bringing up the matter for vote saying that the board had agreed previously to meet with the Port and Harbor Commission to discuss the matter The bonds would be retired from funds obtained from the retention of one mill of the state ad valorem tax levy.

The county is presently engaged in a $2,775,830 expansion project at the -Stennis International Airport, on a matching fund basis under the Federal Aviation Agency Airport Development

Aid Program (ADAP). FAA has made available a grant in the amount of $2,081,000 providing Hancock County funds the balance of of Supervisors. Members of the Jourdan River Anti-Pollution and Improvement Association who approached the supervisors regarding adoption of a resolution favoring land dispersal of sewage effluent rather than discharge into area waterways met no opposition Tuesday from supervisors who unanimously agreed with the proposal.

The meeting was noticeably friendlier than some of past remembrance when supervisors were sharply criticized for not moving quickly enough to provide the county with adequate sewage treatment facilities. Tom Cain, president of the organization, reflects the new thinking

Anti-Pollution proponents had a of the group, which is seeking comrather easy victory Tuesday in the munity support for alternate ideas to chambers of the Hancock County Board emptying sewage effluent from waste plants in Waveland and Bay St. Louis into Watts and Edwards Bayous and ultimately into the Jourdan River. The resolution states that it is to the mutual benefit of the two municipalities and the county to work hand in hand in solving pollution problems facing and affecting the entire area.

In an attempt to put teeth into the county flood protection ordinance, supervisors Tuesday also voted to accept amendments suggested by the Hancock County Planning Commission that would provide for criminal penalties in addition to civil penalties for violation of provisions of the ordinance.

The commission further recommended that the person hired by the county as the building official also be designated as the enforcement official for the Subdivision Regulations of Hancock County.

The county accepted both recommendations. Voting against both motions was supervisor Jerry Ladner, who said he could not go along with either proposal since he felt the code wasn't even legal. In other business the board declared Tri State Construction Company in default after board attorney Sam Favre read a request from the company's bonding company, Fireman's Fund. The company was contracted to perform road work on Rocky Hill, Shoreline Park, Highway 603 Standard and Necaise Roads. Company president Jack Pyle promised supervisors last July 25 that the company would complete resealing the four roads in question originally laid in November of parently not been done, Favre said.

The board took under advisement a id of $19,435 from Pearl River Paving Company, Picayune, for approximately nine-tenths of a mile of resurfacing on Standard-Hill-Cemetery Road.

In another motion by supervisor Jimmy Travirca the board noted to reject bids received on concrete box culverts for Firetower and Charles Moran Road ...

The board voted to employ Ms. Elsie Kenny as a bookkeeper and purchasing clerk at $400 per month under the new central purchasing law.

Robert Sargent and Conrad Mauffray have been named co-chairmen for the 1974 United Way campaign in Hancock County, according to Norton Haas, Sr., president of the Hancock County United Way chapter.

Both men have been active workers with past United Way drives and were co-chairmen of the Commercial Division last year. Sargent is comptroller for Jackson Landing Shipyard, Inc. in Hancock County and was formerly associated with Eljer Plumbingware Co. He was graduated from Mississippi State College and is married to the former

Waveland to fight

Angered and upset over preliminary tax assessment increases released by the office of Bay St. Louis tax assessor Clarence Ladner this week, Waveland mayor John Longo and aldermen Tuesday night pledged to fight unjust tax increases which Longo stated "would have us pay $1,100 per child for education."

Longo stated that the state average cost for educating one child was only $550. Bay St. Louis is paying almost $700 per child, he added, and "they are trying to stick us for $1,100," he said.

"There is no way," Longo said,"that it should cost us nearly $1,100 per child to educate children from Waveland."

The figures compiled by Ladner showed an increase in real property assessments from $1,567,916 in 1973 to $4,087,660 in 1974. The increase amounts to a 160.71 percent increase in real property alone. Land assessments increased 16.87 percent from $2,680,740 to $2,228,470. Personal tax assessments: declined 4.37 percent.

Total assessments for the city of Waveland reflected a 48.68 percent increase compared to a total increase of 36.84 percent for the same assessments in Bay St. Louis.

As pointed out by city attorney Lucien Gex Jr., however, residents of Bay St. Louis still stand to pay more tax than Waveland residents because they will be paying the increase on both school district assessments and on all other city, assessments.

assessment on only the school district

Bay St. Louis commissioners are still holding out on a commitment to Waveland for joining in that city's millage. Saying that it was time to put "our thinking caps on", Longo expressed the wish that Gex investigate any possibility of an injunction that the city could bring to offset the increases and barring that route, what steps would be necessary to establish a separate school district.

Gex said that the city itself had no recourse in the courts against the tax increases because it was not the city's land that was being assessed. The only recourse, Gex said, is for the individual tax payer to challenge the increase in the courts. A more viable approach, Gex said, might be to try to get the Bay-Waveland School District declared a special school district. Gex said that under state statute the city must prove that 25 percent of the educable children in the school district come from Waveland or the outside areas.

The board indicated it would also try to arrange a meeting with state legislators Sept. 10 to investigate the school and tax situation.

Call for transportation

Anyone in the Clermont-Lakesnore area needing transportation to the polls Saturday to vote for the school bond issue may call 467:4655.

Bay says no to sewer plant sewage treatment plant, although Bay Mayor Warren Carver said the two cities' councils "had a gentlemen's agreement" last year for a joint

> The matter came for discussion at a Bay council meeting Tuesday when Carver referred to a resolution from the city of Waveland. Carver spoke in favor of the joint operation but commissioner Clarence Ladner réiterated earlier statements that a commitment now would be "too premature before completion of the 201 study".

> Approval of a three-unit application for a 201 study is still hanging unresolved by EPA, the hold up reputedly excessive fees listed by one of the applicant's engineering firm.

If Bay St. Louis were to accept the Waveland resolution now, Ladner said, Bay residents would have to start paying a service charge to Waveland within 90 days after completion of the plant even though the Bay may not be able to tie in to the system.

No action was taken on the matter. In other business a motion was passed to contribute $25 to the National League of Cities, in support of the organization's fight against the Fair Labor Enforcement Act.

Another motion approved the expenditure of $700 for a lease-purchase agreement on a radar gunfor the police department. Chief William Carbonette requested acquisition of the gun which is a modification of the one used by the Highway Patrol and most Coast cities.

Ladner reminded the council that the city's tax rolls would be open for inspection the week of Sept. 16 and that the council will have to remain in session for that length of time to hear property owners' appeals on

It just takes a little heart

There is not a whole lot that can be said about Saturday's election for Hancock County school improvements and a new high school that hasn't already been said. We could go into a lot of detail on cost, advantages, reasons pro and con and all sorts of really extraneous matter. Those who want to listen have heard and read it all before, those whose minds are closed to the bond issue won't hear anything

So we'll be very brief. . . . and refer only to the sheer logic involved.

The only people who will benefit by the passage of the bond issue are the children the little bitty ones all the way to the 12th graders. The very silent majority whose lives are forever affected by conditions surrounding their school years.

Those citizens who vote for the bond issue are thinking only of the children — with their hearts as well as their heads. They know that well educated, well adjusted children are an invaluable asset to a community.

There are some of the best people in the state of Mississippi living in Hancock County and for that reason, we'll put our money on passage of the bond issue . . . because county people have proven in the past. . . . they think with their hearts.

The Veterans Administration recently posed a question to all veterans who have honorably served in the Armed Forces of the United States. This question was: "Would your survivors know what benefits they might be entitled to receive in the event of your death?"

Chester L. Curvey, Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County, advises that too often the veteran and his wife neglect to discuss this subject, and this places an unnecessary burden on survivors in times of great emotional

The surviving widow and minor children may be eligible to receive a number of benefits from the U.S. Veterans Administration following the death of the veteran. They may also be entitled to educational assistance which will see each eligible person through a collegs or university. In addition to the monthly benefits, the VA can also pay a cash burial allowance and furnish a United States burial flag.

Not only should the veteran and his wife discuss the locations of important family documents, such as his discharge papers, marriage certificate, divorces and birth certificates of the children, they should also make sure that such papers are protected from theft and fire, yet readily accessible. The wife should be advised to contact the nearest Veterans Service Officer for assistance in applying for any State or Federal benefits to which she or the

As a result of the two Social Security increases in 1974, more than 75,000 V.A. pensioners may be removed from the rolls next January because their total income will be over the limits allowed by the V. A., which is $2600, per year for a single veteran or a widow with no dependents and $3800. for a veteran with dependents or a widow with dependents. Another 800,000 will have their benefits reduced as a result of the Social Security raises. This does not count those who will have their pensions reduced because of an increase in their incomes from other sources.

At the beginning of 1974, Congressional leaders said they would study pension reform programs which would alleviate the necessity to pass legislation to save pensions or raise the income limitations each time Social Security benefits were boosted. If the lawmakers don't address themselves to this problem immediately it will be too late to adopt the usual stop gap legislation. NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL THOSE AFFECTED TO-CONTACT THEIR SENATOR OR REPRESENTATIVE TO ASK THEM TO GIVE THIS THEIR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION.

Dear Editor:

My name is Ebner Ferguson, drug education specialist for Hancock County Schools. I would like to express my views about more information needed to the County people concerning educational matters.

The main thing that is pressing on my mind is the fact of the up-coming county school bond issue. I feel there has not been enough information to the public (county voters) on the details of this school bond election. However, I am a believer in this type of bond issue, because I feel that I'm smart, and that all education is the best investment for any penny ever spent! If you think you are smart then I suggest that you prove it and go to the polls this Saturday and

The men were so efficient and were so very careful not to use water if they could use chemicals to extinguish the blaze. The chemicals did a beautiful job and saved me much damage to my house. I know the insurance company is grateful for the small amount of damage.

The insurance adjustor that came to my house today said there was no comparison in the fire department we have now and the one we used to have. He said their claims are much less because of such efficiency.

I know you men hear many complaints from people about Bay St. Louis, but I want to compliment you and tell you that it is too bad that some people don't have a little disaster once in a while to make them appreciate what we really have in Bay St. Louis.

Fellow Citizens: This is an open letter in an effort to clarify the position I have taken regarding the "Resolution from Waveland" concerning the connection of the sewage of Bay St. Louis to their

The Congress of the United States passed the Air and Water Pollution Control Act in October of 1972 - P. L. 92-500. Under the terms of this Act, the federal government would not finance any additional construction, or modifications of systems under the matching funds (75 percent Federal, and 25 percent local) formula, until the entitys involved, conduct a 201 facilities study to determine the needs of the

After this study is completed, the second step of preliminary plans will be authorized and will be funded. Upon completion of this step, authorization for the third step involving construction will be authorized and funded.

Any expense occurred by the City, prior to completion of the steps, are not reimbursable to the City. The design of the Waveland sewage plant was for Waveland's needs up to 1985. This plant, with modifications, (which will cost additional funds) can be adapted to handle the needs of Bay St. Louis. Just what modifications will cost is unknown and will not be known until the above steps have been completed. If and when approval for Bay St. Louis is granted by E. P. A. finances will be available from the federal agency at the above Formula of 75-25. On my recent trip to Jackson, Mississippi, I met with Waveland's engineers and Bay St. Louis engineers, to examine the plans of the Waveland plant. Both firms agreed that Waveland's resolution was premature and that no action should be taken until the 201 Study has been made and approved. This point was made at the council meeting, August 19, 1974, when the Waveland resolution was presented by Mayor Warren Carver.

As Commissioner of Public Utilities, I feel that it is my duty to protect the residents of Bay St. Louis in this proposed sewage extension and to make sure that this project is done at the least cost to the users of the facilities. Since the Federal Agencies control the 75 percent funding, they make the rules and regulations, and as your representative, I'll protect your interest and pocket book, and will not take any steps that will jeopardize the federal funding of this project.

Lucien W. Kidd, Commissioner of Public Utilities

Dear Editor: This is an open letter to Governor Waller regarding his' report to the people on his decision regarding special

Dear Governor Waller: You deplored the lack of interest in a special session of the Legislature to consider a cost-of-living raise for teachers and other State employees. I would like to go on record as being interested and also concerned that you are not showing more leadership in this important function of our state.1 Following are a few questions I pose for answer or consideration:

1) Does the $22 million surplus include the Federal Revenue sharing funds which I understand is on deposit in the banks?

2) If there is a $22 million surplus, why should the eleven prominent businessmen be concerned, since there would be no tax increase. Although they should be interested in good public schools to attract new employees to the state, they probably have no personal interest since their own children are most likely in private schools.

3) Why should the opinion of 80 percent of the legislators carry so much weight, since they have their harvests and other businesses to attend to? Apparently, very few of them intend to run for re-election or they would be more concerned in looking after the vital needs of the state. 4) Why not discuss the question with the following: (a) people in the Education field who are faced with the responsibility of keeping the public schools operational; B) Heads of state departments who need to keep their employees motivated and financially solvent; c) Parent-Teachers associations who will be vitally affected by a sag in our school teachers' interest and professional outlook.

5) You mentioned that the Job Classification Board can take care of the Highway Department's needs. The Chairman of this Board has recently made a public statement that the Board has no authority to grant cost-of-living wages, even though the money is in the department's budget.

In my opinion, you have not discussed the possibility of a special session with people most concerned and have only expressed a concensus of those you picked for your discussions. Why aren't we entitled to some real leadership in the Executive offices of the country? Disappointedly,

J. Harry Batson 731 Woodacre Road Jackson, Mississippi 39206

TO THE PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY:

On Saturday, September 7, 1974, a School Bond Election will be held in Hancock County exclusive of the municipal districts. This bond if passed will provide funds to construct a new South Central High School at Lakeshore. It will also provide funds for renovation of the present North Central High School cafeteria and gym and the construction of four additional classrooms and two additional restrooms at Murphy School.

These facilities would obviously enable our schools to better serve the youth of our county. Many bus routes would be greatly reduced in length thus, reducing not only the discomfort but also the danger to our youth.

By relieving the overcrowded conditions at the North Central High School, students there will receive a better education. In addition, further expansion of that facility will not be required at this time.

By providing two high school facilities, a greater number of students could participate in band, basketball, football, track, and other extracurricular activities. In addition a greater number of scholarships will be available to the graduating seniors. By improving the educational program, we will improve our ability to train our youth to be productive citizens. This will reduce the number of people who are dependent on government assistance. Furthermore, this will increase our appeal to new industries. This should result in an increased utilization of our Port and Harbor facility and provide new jobs.

All of these and many more advantages may be realized by the passage of this bond election. The cost to the taxpayer will be small, approximately five milts.

I encourage you to support this bond and vote "yes" on Saturday, September

> Respectfully yours, H. G. Davis Jr. President Hancock County School Board

Dear Sir:

I hope the agesold adage "Better late than never" still applies for I realize I am a bit tardy in replying to your Editorial entitled "A Backward Glance" which appeared in the August 22 issue of your paper and which inferred that the Bay-Waveland Beach Front Improvement Assn., of which I am a member and also a director, was successful in aborting the efforts of Pete Fountain to build a resort hotel and-or condominium apartment complex on the beach at Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis. I wish to categorically state here that to the very best of my knowledge our organization took no part in this matter whatsoever and I believe it was the consensus of the majority of the members that they were very much in favor of this development. I personally was of the opinion that this location was zoned for this type of development whereas on the other hand, we did vigorously oppose Mr. Floyd Wallace's proposed condominium in Waveland because of the fact that this property was not zoned for that purpose and that there was more than ample property in Waveland that had been zoned for just such development and in view of the fact that these sites had not been used, we saw no reason to change the zoning of a particular location for one person's financial gain. Furthermore, the beach front has historically always been residential and we deplore the thought that it might someday become a vulgar strip such as we have between Gulfport and Biloxi with commercial honky-tonks instead of a family resort.

Last but not least, please let me state here that you inferred that most New Orleans property owners, when they come to the Coast, bring their accoutrements for living with them.

Well, I wish to advise you that I pay in taxes alone almost $650, a year plus spending in Hancock County well over $6,000 a year for the purchase of foods clothing, repairs, labor, gasoline and entertainment and many of my colleagues who, as you call it, own summer residences in the country spend much more than this.

So I really feel as though you are harping on the New Orleans people who enjoy our beautiful Gulf Coast and in reality are taking a step backwards, for it appears to me you are trying to kill the goose that has for many years, laid the "golden egg".

Today with communities such as Covington and Slidell, etc. trying to get 👵 New Orleans residents to move into their areas instead of going out of state. I feel your criticism of the summer residents is playing right down their Chamber of Commerces' alleys.

Respectfully yours, - Ed. C. Carrere, Jr. New Orleans

Reflections

BAREFOOT BOY and John Waters, the rather dapper young man on the far left, is the only surviving member of this group of happy boys, photographed in 1908 on Easterbrook St. in Bay St. Louis, according to William A. Waters who submitted the nostalgic photo. Harry Waters is next, and possibly Leo Choina, then Herbert Choina, the next young man is unidentified and Freddie Choina is at far right. William Waters is a resident of Pearlington and Metairie, La. (Readers are urged to submit photos for use in Reflections. All photos will be returned unharmed at the Echo office in Bay St. Louis.) ****************

Bay men receive awards

Two Bay St. Louis men received awards from the Mississippi Power Co. this week for lengthy time in service with the company.

Perry F. Gibson, Power Co. manager in Bay St. Louis, presented David Peranich an award for 15 continuous years with the company and another to James Wedworth for 10 consecutive years.

Peranich, utilityman A, attended public school in DeLisle and Pass Christian. He began his association wit the Power Co. in May, 1959 as a meter reader in Moss Point and later worked on a line crew in Pascagoula.

He transferred to the Bay in May, 1963 as customer serviceman, later becoming a utilityman. He is married to the former Odele Hincks of Pass Christian and they have three children. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, St. Stanislaus Sideline Club, Bay St. Louis Gun and Rod Club and Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Wedworth, an electric serviceman, is a native of Kosciusko. Miss.

He received his early education in the public schools in Kosciusko and Long Beach and later attended Perkinston executives from commercial Junior College.

KNIT FABRICS

Here in Hancock County as all over the country, I find poylester knits popular in ready-to-wear and home sewing. They have become a way of life, as the use of knit fabrics have spread from Women's Wear to Children's Wear, Men and Boys Wear, to home furnishings.

Stretchable knit fabric handles differently than the familiar woven fabrics. Therefore, you must learn new methods and techniques for handling ths world of stretchable knit fabrics.

BUYING TIPS Check both sides of fabric for pulls or flaws. Check fabric's "memory" (ability to return to normal shape) by pushing your thumb into cloth. It will either come out, sag, or

PRESHRINK KNIT FABRICS

All knits, except alpacawool blend and ribbing for trim, should be pre-shrunk before you cut. Remember how you often buy cotton knit tops one size larger? You know their tendency to shrink. Polyester, cotton, nylon, triacetate, rayon and lingerie knits all must be preshrunk before cutting. When you "make it yourself", you want your garment to fit washing after washing.

An estimated $2^{1}4$ million women will be married this year-about 280,000 of them in June-and one thing they should all remember is to change their names with social security, according to Charles E. Wofford, social security district manager in Gulfport

"A bride should give us her new married name to keep her social security card and her earnings record accurate and up to date " Wofford said 'Then earnings she had both before and after her marriage can be correctly credited to the same record.' A woman's earnings in jobs covered by social security will determine the amount of her cash benefits- "and not just when she retires," Wofford said. "During her working years, she also builds disability, survivors, and Medicare protection for herself and her family."

A new bride can call, write, or visit any social security office to get her name changed on her record. "Or she can use a form available at any post office and many employer personnel offices," Wofford

Seligman: What to do for an encore

POPLARVILLE- -After and at homecoming in a 17-14 posting a 9-1-1 season record and losing only 5 games in 5 years - what do you do for an encore?

This is the major question facing the Pearl River Junior College football Wildcats and new head coach Harvey crown. Seligman and staff.

A new coaching staff. inexperienced players and a murderous first half schedule does not help in finding a quick and simple solution to the above question. However, head coach Seligman commented in a firm and confident voice when he said, "We're going to do a good

"Just because we have a lot of new people at the River, this does not mean we have changed our goals. The tradition at Pearl River is winning, not one, but all our contests," Seligman said. "Pearl River has had only one losing season in 65 years, and we're certainly not going to start to change that record now," he said. Seligman, highly optimistic, later admitted that you really don't know what to expect until after that first game. "The team in general has looked good in practice,; we have some strong points and of course some weak parts," the head coach said, "but still you don't really know how people will react until they get under fire." PRC's first home game will be on the road

September 7, at Decatur. The Warriors, a scrappy north division team will be out for revenge as Pearl River shellacked them 42-0 last season. Next on the ledger comes the perennial mean foursome and keen rivals of Pearl River. Mississippi Delta, defending state champions, will furnish PRC with plenty of opposition in PRC's home opener September 21. Last season the and is fed by more than 200 Wildcats defeated Delta tribitaries, some of which are during regular season play more than 1,000 miles long. - come from behind outing. In the State Championship game, played also at Poplarville, Delta reversed the roll and made a late comeback to defeat the Wildcats 21-17 for the state

September 28, the Wildcats will meet the Jones Bobcats in an annually hot contested encounter at Ellisville. Jones, with several out-of-staters on their roster, is predicted to field another powerhouse. Copiah-Lincoln, usually recognized for their basketball success, but who has fielded some extremely talented teams in the past few seasons, is a constant thorn in the Rivers side. Wildcat backers need only think back to last season to remember the 7-7 tie at the hands of the Wolves, that put the only blemish on an otherwise perfect regular season ledger. Co-Lin was also the only other team to defeat

Delta last season. The October 12 encounter with Gulf Coast, or Perk as referred to by most Wildcat fans, will possibly be the game of the season. Gulf Coast lost only one game last year andthat was at the hands of Pearl River 10-7. In fact in the last four years the victor between Perk and Pearl River usually went undefeated. The only sure fact about the 1974 schedule is that by the time the Wildcats reach midseason, they will have a lot of

The high swivel and "Stadium" chairs that come standard on many bass boats and can be added to most others, can raise the boat's occupants to a point that blocks the stern light-the 360degree "Inland Water" type. This light, if you use the Inland Rules book, must be the highest point on the boat, including passengers and tengallon hats. With the international lighting system, this problem is virtually nonexistant.

Much worse than blocking the light, these nautical high chairs can raise the center of gravity, sometimes causing capsizings or falls overboard. Several accidents have been attributed to this cause. The best seats have adjustable heights-high for still-fishing. low for cruising, plying winding rivers or avoiding underwater obstacles.

Be wary of some swivel seats. If they spin too easily, a boatman may find himself turning to port while the boat is turning to starboars. The famous zigged-when-Ishoulda-zagged situation. Even if you don't get your feet wet (all the way up to your hat) you may lose complete control of the boat.

Molded plastic seats are becoming common/on all boats and are great rain water collectors. Try drilling a hole or two at the lowest spot for water drainage. The benefits are many: obviously, your bottom will not become soaked, your, fishing license will escape water damage and you will be aiding the mosquito control people by draining standing water.

While you are drilling in the war against skeeters, why not punch a few holes in the backrest of the seat and make a life jacket rack? Some bent wire (corrosion resistant) that will not tear the jacket, vest or cushion covers can hang them off deck and keep them from being ruined. Be sure that they can be reached immediately, will float free-in a sinking or capsizing and are within reach of your partner
